Reinstatement

The reinstatement of a licence (P.Eng.) or limited licence will be subject to new amendments made under Regulation 941 effective June 16, 2008. The actual wording of the amendment (pertaining to Reinstatement) is provided in the last section of this Guide.

Highlights of Changes

Council amended Regulation 941 to put in place a graduated process to deal with members (P.Engs) and limited licence holders who default on their fees, effective June 16, 2008. Specifically, the amendments introduce new licence reinstatement provisions that provide for increasing obligations based on the length of time the licence of a professional engineer or limited licensee has been lapsed. The highlights include:

- During the first 90 days after the date PEO cancelled your licence or limited licence, a small financial penalty will be assigned, which increases with time to larger financial penalties, and then adds the requirement to fill out an application and get character references; and
- There is a provision for re-assessment if your licence has been lapsed for more than two years.

Applicants who have been previously licensed by PEO and are seeking to have their licences reinstated, because they either resigned their licence or allowed their licence to lapse, are not required to submit transcripts or write any examinations.

Details of the new reinstatement process follow under these headings:

- A) for members (P.Engs) whose licences were cancelled for non-payment of fees;
- B) for members (P.Engs) who resigned their licence;
- C) for limited licence holders whose limited licences were cancelled for non-payment of fees.

Please note that the cancellation date is not the date when your previous licence was scheduled to expire (i.e. renewal date), or is it the date when you might have advised PEO to cancel your licence.
