Are you an ENGINEERING INTERN thinking about developing your leadership skills?

You may be a candidate for the G. Gordon M. Sterling Engineering Intern Award

This new award:

- was created to encourage and support the development of leadership skills in registered engineering interns
- is named for G. Gordon M. Sterling, P.Eng., PEO president (2001-2002), who believed strongly in the value of leadership development among P.Engs as a means to enhance their careers, and contribute to society and the governance of the profession
- provides up to $3,500 to offset expenses associated with leadership development pursuits

To apply:

- application guidelines and forms available at www.peo.on.ca
- deadline: Friday, October 14, 2011

For more information:

- contact Andrea Vecera, 416-224-1100, ext. 1210, sterlingaward@peo.on.ca, www.peo.on.ca
